COUNTRY ROMANCE IS LAID BARE IN BEN NOBLE TRIAL

Fred Whipple Admits in Cross Examination Defendant "Beat His Time" With Carey Wiley.

BOTH COURTED HER ATTENTION

Young Whipple, State's Witness,

Prosecution's Alleged Motive.

OTHER WITNESSES ON STAND

Mrs. Sprague and Neighbors Relate Incidents of Night When Murder Was Committed.

A country romance was laid bare in the Ben Noble trial late this afternoon, when Fred Whipple, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Whipple, living southeast of Birney, Decatur county, testified in cross examination. In direct examination young Whipple testified to many things detrimental to the defense and helpful to the State, that he had heard Ben Noble say and saw him do many things that might arouse suspicion against him. Whipple's testimony seemed especially degrading for the defense and at times was bordering on sarcasm.

The State finished with its witness and young Whipple was turned over to the defense, John Osborne of Greensburg taking him in hand.

"Let me see, you courted the same girl, didn't you?" questioned the attorney.

"Well, yes," hesitated the witness. "And he got the girl away from you?"

"Yes," with still more hesitancy. "But I didn't care for the girl," was the rejoinder.

"You didn't care for her, yet you paid attentions to her right along?"

"Oh, I cared for her in a sociable way," said Whipple.

"Isn't Ben Noble your friend," said the attorney.

"He was my friend and I thought he was my friend, just like Albert Sprague thought he was his friend."

"You thought he was your friend, you say?"

"Yes."

"That is you thought he was your friend until he 'beat your time,' isn't that it?"

The witness was somewhat mixed and he muttered that he thought Noble was his friend all the time, but that he did not know whether or not Noble was his friend.

"Well, now isn't it a fact that Ben Noble was your friend up until the time he got your girl away from you?" asked the defendant's attorney.

"Yes sir, and he was my friend after that."

"Is he your friend now?"

"I don't know."

"What is the name of the young woman whom you courted?"

"Carey Wiley," replied Whipple. "She lived three miles west of Birney."

"I will ask you, Mr. Whipple, if it isn't a fact that you went to see Miss Wiley one Sunday and that Noble was already there?"

"No, I started, but I never got there," replied Whipple.

"Well, isn't it a fact that you drove back and that Noble and Miss Wiley drove along in a buggy behind you. That they finally whipped their horse and drove past you, making you very angry?"

"I don't remember," answered young Whipple.

"Will you answer me this. Didn't you bear a false message from Miss Wiley to Ben Noble, purporting to tell him that Miss Wiley had another engagement and that she did not want him to come on the following Saturday and Sunday. And didn't you go to see her yourself?"

"No sir." It was a very strong denial.

In direct examination young Whipple testified he saw Noble in Birney about eleven o'clock on the night of the murder and that he talked with Noble the next morning, when the prisoner said that he would like to have been there when that coward killed Sprague. He related what was spoken in other conversations with Noble prior to the murder, he alleging that Noble said at one time, "There'll be hell raised on the Sprague farm if different arrangements are not made." He said he saw the gun at the Sprague home the morning following the murder and that it looked like it had been shot recently.

W. E. Whipple, father of Fred Whipple, was on the stand just before his son and testified that he was at the Sprague home shortly after the murder had been discovered. Whipple testified he saw shotgun wads on the floor and that Noble said to him, "The man who killed him, had a damned hard heart in him."

The defense subpoenaed all the members of the Webb family, evidently believing their testimony beneficial to their case.

Frank W. Kean, a restaurant keeper of Birney, testified that Noble cashed a check for $6 signed by Albert Sprague, at his place the Sunday afternoon before the night of the murder. The check was introduced as evidence and the State in argument alleged that the paper had been forged. The defense objected and the jury was dismissed for dinner, while the attorneys argued the question.

During the dinner hour court decisions were consulted and after dinner the court overruled the objections of the defense. The defendants had their objections made a matter of court record.

Walter W. Bonner, a banker of Greensburg testified that he was acquainted with Sprague and knew his

WOULD INSURE EVERY POLICEMAN

Killing of Alexandria Patrolman, Leads to Novel Plan For Their Protection Against Death.

IS SENDING OUT LETTERS

Chief of Police Bolte of Wabash, Ind., inspired by the killing of the Alexandria patrolman Saturday night is sending out letters to all the police chiefs of the State, asking them to join an organization for the purpose of collecting from every policeman of the State $1 for the widow and child of every policeman who is killed while on duty. Chief Bolte believes this will make a fund of about $5,000 for the family of each policeman killed while on duty, and adds that the policemen are almost unable to get insurance on account of prohibitive rates. By Chief Bolte's plan, he says the cost will not exceed $15 a year for $5,000, which is only a small percentage of what regular insurance costs. He believes every policeman in the State will be interested in his plan.

HEARING SET FOR MONDAY

County Commissioners Take Applications of McCormick and O'Neil Under Advisement.

QUESTION AS TO CHARACTER

City Council Meets Tonight and Their Action on Proposed Ordinance Creates Interest.

The saloon question in Rushville is far from being settled, and from indications will not be for some time. After the remonstrance had been filed yesterday with the county commissioners against the granting of any licenses, evidence was introduced as to the character of two of the applicants.

The first of the applicants to have a hearing, was James McCormick, who has applied for a license to conduct a saloon in West Second street. Several witnesses were introduced. The questions asked were concerning his moral character and the fitness of Mr. McCormick to conduct a saloon.

The other applicant to have a hearing was Thomas O'Neil, who would run a saloon next door to where McCormick would locate. John Tiisworth acting as attorney for the "drys" upheld the dry side of the hearing. The questions asked about Mr. O'Neil were along the same lines as those asked about Mr. McCormick. The commissioners took the granting of these two licenses under advisement and the hearing of the other seven applicants was set for Monday morning.

The city council will meet tonight in an adjourned session and their action, on the proposed ordinance to regulate the saloons, is watched with interest. If the council passes the ordinance restricting the saloons from the residence district of the city and confining them to the business district as is proposed, it will at least kill the granting of licenses to three men, if the same boundaries are used as were discussed at their meeting, Tuesday night.

The ordinance, if passed as read would create a novel sight in the way of saloons. All screens and blinds would be done away with, giving a clear view of the interior. Several attorneys have expressed themselves that the ordinance would not stand and if passed the "wets" will probably make a fight against its provisions.

Two more men have given notice that they will apply to the commissioners at their April meeting for a saloon license. This brings the total number up to eleven.

CASE POSTPONED UNTIL TUESDAY

Suit For Possession and Damages
Filed by William Cross Before Squire Today.

ATTRACTED MUCH ATTENTION

The suit for possession and damages filed in Squire Kratzer's court by William Cross against John Johnson came up for a hearing this morning. The case attracted unusual attention because of the shooting affair which led to the filing of the charges. An attempt was made to get a jury, but the proceedings were stopped by a withdrawal of the case. A new suit will be filed and the trial will come up next Tuesday.

POSTMASTERS HOLD MEETING

Effect District Organization at Their Session in Connersville—Idea is to Improve Service.

WILL MEET HERE APRIL 25

Elect Charles Frazee Vice-President —Desire High Rating in "Big Chief's" Office.

The Presidential postmasters of the Sixth district met at the McFarlan Hotel, Tuesday afternoon, and effected an organization, for the purpose of exchanging views and ideas as to the best and most efficacious method of conducting their various offices for the convenience of patrons and betterment of service, says the Connersville News.

After a few preliminary remarks by Postmaster Morgan, of Greensburg, he was chosen temporary chairman, and Samuel E. DeHaven, of this city, temporary secretary.

Postmaster Thompson, of New Castel, moved that the organization be known as "The Association of Presidential Postmasters of the Sixth District of Indiana," and that the temporary officers chosen hold for one year. The motion carried.

Postmaster Frazee, of Rushville, was chosen vice-president and Postmaster Sherburne, of Knightstown, treasurer.

On motion it was unanimously decided that the officers selected should constitute a committee for the program and arrangements for the next meeting, to be held at Rushville, on Tuesday, April 25th, when a pleasant and profitable time will be had.

At the conclusion of the business meeting a social session was indulged in that consisted mostly of "shop talk," but several good ideas were brought out and will be put into practice. Each postmaster is desirous of a high rating in the "Big Chiefs" office at Washington, and this is the most important feature and object of the organization.

The postmasters who compose the district, most of whom were present, are: Dr. J. F. Thompson, New Castle; E. M. Sherburne, Knightstown; J. A. Young, Middletown; Charles Frazee, Rushville; Enos Coffin, Cartilage; S. R. Stewart, Milroy; John Kimball, Brookville; E. M. Haas, Richmond; Knobe Porter, Hagers-town; P. H. Zehrung, Cambridge City; B. C. Morgan, Greensburg; Enos Sexton, Shelbyville; John Bennett, Morristown; J. M. Freeman, Liberty; George Duncan, Greenfield; John Jenkins, Fortville; L. E. Moore, Shirley, and Samuel E. DeHaven, Connersville.

REVIVAL MEETING CLOSED

Salvation Army Has Done Much Good Here.

Captain and Mrs. Enoch of the Salvation Army have been in charge of the local work, since January 20, and in that time they have met with great success. When Mr. and Mrs. Enoch first came here they found a large debt had accumulated. This has all been paid off. In the revival meeting which closed last Sunday, seventeen were converted. They believe the Salvation Army has done much good in this city and will continue to do so.

It is now believed that the solid crust of the earth can not be thicker than sixty-two miles.

MUSICAL ENTERTAINMENT

To be Given by Young People of the Christian Church.

The young people of the Main Street Christian church will give a musical entertainment and reading next Wednesday evening at eight o'clock. There will be a harp and violin in the hands of the Dilling sisters and they will be assisted by Miss Beck. These people are highly spoken of wherever they have been and the people who attend can count on being well entertained.

MAN HAD BEEN DEAD FOR THREE DAYS

William Dobbins of Knightstown Believed to Have Been Victim of Gas From Baseburner.

INVESTIGATED BY NEIGHBORS

The funeral services of William Dobbins, who was found dead on the floor of his home in Knightstown will probably be held tomorrow. Mr. Dobbins was 69 years old and was a well known man in Knightstown. He was a victim of gas from a baseburner and had probably been dead two days when found. Dobbins lived by himself and from the fact that he was found on the floor it is taken that he attempted to get out of a door, but was overcome and was asphyxiated. The last time Dobbins was seen alive was on Sunday evening. The blinds at the windows were not raised and the neighbors became suspicious, which led to an investigation and the discovery of his body.

LOCAL HORSEMAN ATTEND BIG SALE

MANILLA FIRM GET $1500

A large crowd of buyers was in attendance yesterday at the Lackey horse sale in Cambridge City and the high mark was reached when J. T. Mitchell of Ft. Wayne paid $1900 for Little Trouble, a bay gelding owned by I. C. Robbins of Greensburg.

Local buyers and sellers were quite in evidence. James W., a trotter owned by Frank Lindsey was sold to Roy Carr of Homer for $535; Jerome, a trotter consigned by Graham and Gowdy, was sold to J. J. Rutherford of New Castle, Pa., for $425; Redlock, a trotter owned by Frank Lindsey, went to Dr. Reed of Portland, at $410; Curt Gosnell, a well known driver, paid $1500 for Woodruff King, by Ashland and Wilkes, Jr. He is a pacer and was consigned by Morrison and Wagoner of Manilla. An extra consignment by Harrie Jones was sold to Frank King of Seaport, Canada, for $640.

WOMAN'S PLEA DRAWS ANSWER

New York Electrical Engineer Files
Answer to Drusilla Megee's Breach of Promise Suit.

SHE ONLY WANTED $10,000

Story of Advertising For Helpmate is Repeated—Local Woman Filed Case 3 Months Ago.

Edwin Coolbaugh, electrical contractor, has filed an answer to a $10,000 breach of promise suit brought by Drusilla Megee, a divorced woman in New York City. She went there from Rushville a year ago on Coolbaugh's promise to marry her, so the story goes.

It will be remembered that Mrs. Megee filed the breach of promise suit in New York about three months ago, a complete account of which was given in the Daily Republican at the time of the happening. Since that time Mrs. Megee has been on the alert expecting developments from the other side. They came yesterday when her supposed fiancé filed an answer to her complaint.

Mrs. Megee left here a year ago to become the wife of the man whom she is now suing for breach of promise. Mrs. Megee is an orphan and a widow as well. She resided with her mother in East Seventh street until her death and then sold the property. She is the widow of Omer Megee, who died only a few years ago.

The story of their acquaintanceship which soon ripened into love is told as follows in a New York dispatch:

They met through an advertisement she had used in a Western matrimonial paper. The meeting followed correspondence. Mrs. Megee promised to produce Coolbaugh's diary, showing an entry of his intent to marry her. She alleged that in one letter Coolbaugh wrote:

"I have never been complimented for my good looks, nor have I been taunted for lack of them."

Then followed an exchange of letters, in which poetry was quoted and love was discussed. It was last November the break between Coolbaugh and Mrs. Megee took place, she says. Coolbaugh also was divorced, and question of divorce was brought up in his letters. Coolbaugh expressed a love for music, but said he desired to have a companion with him when he attended a concert or the opera.

LIVED TOGETHER FOUR DAYS

Married life lasted just four days for Will Pierson and Mattie Walls who were married here in the clerk's office February 11. Pierson who is from Knightstown, yesterday filed suit for divorce from his wife, in the Henry county circuit court. The trial has been set for March 18 and promises to be very sensational. Pierson is a machinist by trade and alleges that his wife's mother aided and abetted her in the marriage. He charges that his wife admitted not being faithful to him and in the complaint the name of one Fred Osborn is given as the correspondent.

dered man was placed on the stand as a State's witness. The defense is conceded to have gained a signal victory from her testimony, which came about while Mrs. Sprague was undergoing direct examination.

In answering the questions put by the State's attorneys, the story of the details on the night of the murder was rehearsed. Practically the same story was recited as was said by Ralph Sprague in his opening remarks would be brought out in the evidence with one exception.

Briefly Mrs. Sprague's testimony was to the effect that she was awakened Sunday night, July 17, of last year by the terrific report of a shotgun, which sounded like an explosion. She awakened with a scream on her lips and reached over to touch her husband who lay beside her. She found that blood was gushing from his face and neck. The light was extinguished so that she did not see the ghastly sight, according to her own story. She sprang out of bed, screaming with all of the voice she could command and ran into the hallway, where she met Ben Noble face to face. She testified that she cried out to Noble, "Oh, Ben, someone has killed Albert."

In making the opening statement, Ralph Sprague stated that it would be shown in the evidence that Ben Noble ran to a neighbor's house shortly after the crime was discovered and told them that Albert Sprague had been shot. The State's attorney reiterated that Mrs. Sprague did not tell Noble that her husband had been killed, that he was not inside the room so that he could get a glimpse of the dead man and that he had no way of knowing that Noble had been murdered unless he had committed the crime. But Mrs. Sprague's testimony was contradictory.

In her testimony it was brought out, as was explained in the opening statement by the defense and State, that the house is a large, square, old-fashioned, two-story brick residence, the front of which faces the north. The front door opens into a small hallway, which has no outlet only to the two rooms one at each side, and the stairway, which leads to the rooms above. In the room to the right of the hallway slept the Sprague family, while to the left is the parlor, back of which is the dining room and kitchen, all one room. Mrs. Sprague said on the stand that she met Noble coming out of the parlor into the hall as she ran out of her bed room that night.

Mrs. Sprague testified that as soon as Noble went to arouse the neighbors, she went into the kitchen and found that Noble had eaten his supper after returning home late that night. She said that she noticed the shotgun, which had been carefully cleaned by her husband the day before, was leaning against the window casing, not under the curtain as it had been left, but against the curtain. She found that the barrel was warm and that there was evidence that a shell had been shot in it since it had been cleaned.

The widow declared that her husband had refused to let Noble have a rig to go driving on that Sunday, because the horses were all tired during harvest times. She testified that Sprague had contemplated releasing Noble after harvest time and that she had argued against it because he was a good farm hand. She said that he went to Birney and hired a rig on that Sunday.

Mrs. Sprague is purported to have lost her voice on the night of the terrible tragedy, due to the sudden shock and for that reason has not been able to talk above a whisper since that time. Her answers could not be understood by the jury and it was necessary for the court reporter to act as interpreter.

Mrs. Sprague was the only witness put on the stand last evening, the court discharging the jury as soon as her testimony was finished. Judge Blair allowed the jury to go home. In admonishing them against any infractions of the rules set down for a jury while out of the court room, he said in part: "I will allow the jurors to retire for their respective homes during the night. I do not want the jurors to talk to one another. I also ask that they not read the newspapers. They may distort the facts and cause them to be slightly colored. It is not intentional, as I am sure they are sincere in their motives, but often they do not understand the facts as we do. I admonish you not to make up your minds or form any opinions in this case until the evidence is all in and the instructions have been given. If I hear of any member of the jury breaking the rules which I have laid down, I will keep the jury together."

GOING TO LOOK INTO A RECENT ELECTION

Marion "Drys" Have a Feeling They Were Cheated.

Marion, Ind., March 9.—A venire of ten names from which to select a grand jury has been ordered by Judge H. J. Paulus of the Grant circuit court, and seemingly there is an accepted belief that the grand jury will be instructed to look into charges of illegal voting in Marion at the late local option election. The "wets" carried the election in Marion by only thirty-five votes, and the "drys" say that after a careful investigation they are convinced there was much illegal voting in the First precinct of the Second ward, which gave the "drys" only 113 votes, as against 298 for the "wets." The "drys" hope to find enough evidence of illegal voting to throw out the precinct, in which case they will claim the election. The grand jury will meet March 27.

Pending the outcome of the investigation the county commissioners have made a finding to the effect that a majority of the legal votes cast in this city was against the sale of liquor as a beverage and will decline to grant any saloon licenses.

PROGRESSIVES NEW FACTOR IN POLITICS

Republican League Comprises Prominent Men in Party From West and Northwest, With a Scattering From East.

Organization Headed by Senator Bourne of Oregon Plans Campaign, to Popularize Principles—May Mean New Party.

THE National Progressive league is born. It is a new force in American politics, the effects of which no one can as yet foresee. The general belief is that it will result either in capturing the Republican party or in the formation of a new party, although its founders deny that it is in any sense a new party now. Its chief purpose is the advancement of progressive legislation. Among its charter members are nine United States senators, six governors, thirteen congressmen and others who are famous throughout the land.

The officers of the new organization are as follows:

President, Senator Jonathan Bourne, Jr., Oregon; first vice president, Representative George W. Norris, Nebraska; second vice president, Governor Chase S. Osborn, Michigan; treasurer, Charles R. Crane, Chicago; executive committee, Senator Moses E. Clapp, Minnesota; Senator Joseph L. Bristow, Kansas; Representative E. H. Hubbard, Iowa; Representative Irvine L. Lenroot, Wisconsin; Representative Elect William Kent, California; Gifford Pinchot, Pennsylvania; George L. Record, New Jersey, and the president, vice president and treasurer, members ex officio.

Among other well known members are:

Senators Beveridge, Brown, Cummins, Dixon, Gronna and La Follette, Representatives Cooper, Carey, Morse and Nelson of Wisconsin, Davis and Lindberg of Minnesota, Haugen of Iowa and Murdock and Madison of Kansas; Governors Aldrich of Nebraska, Carey of Wyoming, Johnson of California, McGovern of Wisconsin and Stubbs of Kansas, Senator Elect Poindexter of Washington, Representatives Elect La Follette of Washington and Jackson of Kansas, Ray Stanford Baker, Louis D. Brandeis, James R. Garfield, Hugh T. Halbert, Francis J. Heney and William Allen White.

Platform Is Progressive.

Rather strong array of names that. At last there seems to be something doing in this land of the free, something portentous to bosses, special interests, grafters, bribers and reactionaries.

The platform of the league bears out this idea. It is as follows:

We, the undersigned, associate ourselves together as the National Progressive Republican league.

The object of the league is the promotion of popular government and progressive legislation.

Popular government in America has been thwarted and progressive legislation strangled by the special interests which control caucuses, delegates, conventions and party organizations and through control of the machinery of government dictate nominations and platforms, elect administrations, legislate, representatives in congress and United States senators and control cabinet officers.

Under existing conditions legislation in the public interest has been baffled and defeated. This is evidenced by the long struggle to secure laws, but partially effective, for the control of railway rates and services, the revision of the tariff in the interest of the producer and consumer, statutes dealing with trusts and combinations based on sound economic principles as applied to modern industrial and commercial conditions; a wise, comprehensive and impartial reconstruction of the banking and monetary laws; the conservation of coal, oil, gas, timber, water powers and other natural resources belonging to the people, and for the enactment of all legislation solely for the common good.

Just in proportion as popular government has in the several states superseded the delegate convention system and the people have assumed control of the machinery of government has government become responsive to the popular will and progressive legislation been secured.

The Progressive Republican league believes that popular government is fundamental to all other questions. To this end it advocates:

The election of United States senators by direct vote of the people.

Direct primaries for the nomination of all elective officials.

The direct election of delegates to national conventions, with opportunity for the voter to express his choice for president and vice president.

Amendments to state constitutions providing for the initiative, referendum and recall.

A thoroughgoing corrupt practices act.

The league will co-operate with progressives in the several states and wherever acceptable will render assistance in promoting the organization of state leagues.

Whenever requested by any progressive state league or by progressive leaders in state legislatures the National Progressive Republican league will aid in the preparation of appropriate bills and resolutions and will furnish speakers and literature in support of legislative action upon the proposition enunciated in the five paragraphs set forth in the foregoing declaration of principles.

Many Campaigns Planned.

Senator Bourne says that the league will organize an aggressive campaign, form state leagues, push progressive legislation in Democratic as well as Republican legislatures and enlarge its membership throughout the land. Headquarters will be taken in Washington, and Senator Bourne will devote all his available time to the work. New members will be elected by a majority of the present membership. The league is not a mere sporadic affair, but is intended to be permanent. Several men of wealth are connected with the organization, and it is understood that a considerable campaign fund has already been raised. It is proposed to send literature and speakers throughout the country.

The officials of the league say that it is not designed to advance the fortunes of any man. For this reason both Senators Cummins and La Follette, who have been mentioned in connection with the presidential nomination in 1912, are not included in prominent positions, but are plain members. More significant still, Colonel Theodore Roosevelt is not a member. The statement was given out that he had been invited to join, but that while in sympathy with the purposes of the new organization he had not decided to become a member yet.

A New York paper printed a story to the effect that it was due to suggestions of league officers themselves that the colonel did not sign the roll. He had been ready enough to join, so said this paper, but it was feared that if he did the move would be misconstrued into a third term proposition, and he was advised to keep out for a time at least. Some attach significance to the fact that Senator Bourne, the "second elective term" man, is at the head of the league and Gifford Pinchot, James R. Garfield and other warm friends of Roosevelt are prominent in the membership. They also point to the fact that the colonel is on an extensive lecture tour covering the progressive and southern states.

New Party Seen.

In Washington the organization of the league is generally regarded as the beginning of a new party. At least this is the construction placed on it by enemies of the movement. These say that the league will make its first fight to prevent President Taft's re-nomination in the Republican national convention and, failing in that, will glad to have their attention called to the fact so that they might comment.

This would indicate that the Outlook and presumably Colonel Roosevelt are at least not unfriendly to the league, an idea that is borne out by the fact that before launching the Washington organization its promoters were in conference with Mr. Roosevelt and by the additional fact that at about the time they formed their organization and announced their principles—viz., on Jan. 21—Colonel Roosevelt in the Outlook gave out a platform of principles strikingly like their own.

There are two particulars in which the league formed in Washington deviated from the plan originally proposed by the writer, and both when taken in connection with a third fact are somewhat significant. My proposal was that the organization be made nonpartisan, inviting in Republicans and members of all parties. The Washington organization is Republican. I suggested that the league proceed from the people upward, being organized first in the election districts, then in the counties, next into state leagues and finally into a national league. The Washington plan reverses this process, starting from the top downward, forming the national league first and giving the control of membership and all subsequent organization into its hands.

The third significant fact is that one of the planks of the league platform adopted at Washington provides for the direct election of delegates to the national convention and popular expression of preferences for president and vice president. While this is an entirely correct principle, it has laid the motives of the league open to misconception. When taken in conjunction with the facts already cited that the body is a Republican organization and is in the control of its charter members it has aroused criticism to the effect that the league is to be made a football of presidential politics.

Owing to the peculiar conditions in Washington it was probably formed in what seemed to its founders the most practical way. As it grows it will inevitably broaden in scope and walk out and make an independent nomination. Senator Beveridge and other members of the organization have indignantly denied such intention.

To me the launching of the Progressive league is of peculiar interest for the reason that just after the last election I proposed the starting of a precisely similar institution. In a two column signed article headed "A National Progressive League" I outlined the plan. It was published in a number of progressive papers in different parts of the country about the end of November or the beginning of December last year. As there outlined the chief purpose of the league was to be the advancement of progressive legislation. It was clearly set forth that the organization was to be in no sense a new party. In these and other details the league launched in Washington is strikingly similar to the one then proposed.

In subsequent articles I continued to urge the idea and asked that any leagues formed under this plan should notify me, so that the first one in the field could have mention made of the fact. The first body so started was a county league in San Joaquin county, Cal. On receiving a letter from the secretary of that organization announcement was accordingly made. While I have not had the courtesy of a letter or other acknowledgment from the Washington league, it follows the plan so closely in name, object, principles and other details that I am happy to announce it as the second one formed. The humble suggestion seems to be bearing fruit. Who will organize the third Progressive league?

Plan Is Praised.

It is a fact that may or may not have bearing that on Dec. 19 I sent an article elaborating the plan for a progressive league to the Outlook, of which Colonel Roosevelt is contributing editor. In about three weeks I got the article back with a letter praising the idea as "practical" and one that would make "for national welfare." The Outlook did not want to be placed in the position of actually starting the organization, however. If it were started its editors would be become more nonpartisan, also more responsive to the folks at home, the men who are progressives from principle only and who are not in politics. They should have started the league in the first place and, more important still, should control it after it is started. The progressive movement was formed by the people, has been pushed forward by the people and will be shaped and ruled by the people. It is they who have spurred on the insurgent senators and representatives and who have carried the movement to its present commanding position. It is they who will make the Progressive league a success.

May Become Nonpartisan.

They will not permit dictation from a small group of men at Washington or anywhere else. For the most part the people are not partisans or, at least, are less partisans than ever before. They can be depended on to make of the league a popular, broad, nonpartisan organization, devoted to principles rather than to men, to policies rather than to factions. They will give honor where honor is due and will find those who are honestly, unselfishly for them.

One of the most hopeful planks in the league platform is that favoring a corrupt practices act. This suggests a practical work that could be taken up by the body at once. There is now starting a crusade against the buying and selling of votes. It has already appeared in Adams county, O.; Danville, Ill., and elsewhere. An organization like the Progressive league could powerfully advance this work. Nor could it render a more important service. Until elections are purged no considerable reform elsewhere is possible. So long as there is bribery at the polls there will be bribery in legislatures, in congress and in official life.

Whether or not the Progressive league means a new party time alone can determine. My greatest faith is in God Almighty and the common people. These can be depended on to work out the problem. If a new party is needed for the salvation of the republic and for the advancement of true democracy, then be assured a new party will come.

Court Holds Indictment Against Gardner Is Good.

Danville, Ill., March 9.—Judge Kimbrough has decided that the indictment against Fred Gardner, charging him with the murder of Mrs. Elsie Cochran, near this city last October, is good, and that he must stand trial. Gardner's attorneys demurred to the indictment because it did not prescribe the dead woman as a human being.

In October a boy going through the woods back of the Soldiers' home stumbled on the almost nude body of a dead woman. The body was badly mutilated, but was identified as that of Mrs. Elsie Cochran, a young married woman. The clew that led to the arrest of Fred Gardner was the peculiar formation of a shoe worn by a horse belonging to him. His was the only horse in the city shod in such manner. The shoes were removed from the horse and they are said to have fitted the tracks found near the body. Later it was established that they had been good friends had been riding together several times and had quarreled a few days before the crime.

LAME DUCKS LAND

Defeat Failed to Score a Victory in the Cases of These Exs.

Washington, March 9.—The "lame ducks" of the last congress who are being provided for are increasing in number from day to day. The latest to be taken care of are Senator Carter of Montana and Representatives Tawney of Minnesota and Denby of Michigan.

Their appointments as members of the International boundary commission will, it is expected, be announced shortly from the White House, at $10,000 a year. The "lame ducks" who have already been provided for are Senators Flint of California and Tallaferrro of Florida, and Representatives McLachlin of California and Prince of Illinois, who were appointed members of the national monetary commission at $7,500 a year; Senator Warner of Missouri, selected for membership on the board of ordnance and fortifications; Boutell of Illinois, appointed minister to Portugal; Representative McKinlay of California, named as collector of port at Frisco, and Durey of New York, appointed collector of internal revenue in the Fourteenth New York district.

WHOLE TOWN IN BAD

Two Hundred Residents of a West Virginia Village Arrested.

Wheeling, W. Va., March 9.—About 200 men, women and children were arrested at Fortney, W. Va., when the federal authorities swooped down on the town. All are charged with manufacturing moonshine whisky and will be held for the grand jury.

After receiving news of the large amount of illicit liquor being sent from this section the federal authorities raided the town and arrested practically all of the inhabitants.

OVERSTUDY

Is Given as Cause of Sudden Blindness of Young Girl.

Carmi, Ill., March 9.—Miss Nora Dixon, the sixteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Dixon of Salem, was stricken with total blindness while attending school. She was sitting at a desk when she suddenly fell to the floor in a faint. When picked up her eyesight was gone. Physicians who examined the girl fear that it is a permanent affliction, and assign nervousness and high tension at study as the cause.

Charged With Bank Robbing. Greenfield, Ind., March 9.—The grand jury has indicted Dan Williams, charging grand larceny. Williams is charged with conspiracy in the robbery of the New Palestine bank.

HOW CHRONIC COUGHS

Are Being Cured by Vinol—An Account of One Case.

New Haven, Conn.—"I was troubled with a most persistent chronic cough for a long time and had tried so many remedies and prescriptions without benefit that I was discouraged. I was persuaded by my friends to try Vinol. I must say that I had little confidence, but I made up my mind to give it a fair trial. Before I finished my first bottle of Vinol I commenced to notice an improvement in my general condition. After taking the second bottle, my cough left me, and I must say I never felt better in my life,—all due to the use of Vinol. I can also recommend Vinol to anyone in a run down condition as the best possible remedy." (Name furnished on request.)

It is the combined action of the medicinal elements of the cods' livers aided by the blood-making and strength-creating properties of tonic iron which makes Vinol so efficient in curing chronic coughs, colds and bronchitis—at the same time building up the weakened, run-down system. Vinol contains no oil and tastes good.

Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you. F. B. Johnson & Co., Druggists, Rushville, Ind.

To Investigate Double Murder.

Anderson, Ind., March 9.—Judge Bagot has issued a call to the Madison county grand jury for a special session to investigate the recent tragedy at Alexandria, in which Police Chief Ellis and Patrolman Kirkman were killed. James Walker, who did the shooting, and Rufus Warren, his alleged accomplice, who were rushed to the jail at Indianapolis when it was rumored that a mob from Alexandria might storm the Madison county jail, will be returned here.

Governor Clears His Desk.

Indianapolis, March 9.—With the signing of two house bills Governor Marshall cleared his desk of all bills passed by the legislature and received by him. One was a bill the purpose of which was to legalize the actions of some township trustees and advisory boards prior to 1900. The other was for the relief of certain township trustees. This made a total of 298 bills signed by Governor Marshall 153 being from the house and 145 from the senate.

It has never been known exactly who is behind the Tom Marshall boom for the presidential nomination. It has been reduced to a certainty that it was not Tom Taggart since the saw that a clause in that direction was struck out of the resolutions in the last Democratic State convention. Well, then who is it?

It is conclusive evidence that the National Model License League of Louisville, Ky., is at least a part to the contract from the letter which they have sent out to newspapers to be released today by afternoon papers. The story which they send is alleged to be an interview from Governor Marshall in which he expresses his views on the liquor question. The letter, accompanying the interview, which is explanatory within itself, is given herewith:

I am sending you herewith authorized interview given to me by Gov. Marshall of Indiana, in which he states clearly his views in regard to the proper regulation of the liquor business.

The Proctor Law to which he refers includes the principal clauses of Model License Law.

As Gov. Marshall is a receptive candidate for the Democratic nomination for President, I think you will find his views highly interesting.

EXTRA HOLIDAY THIS YEAR

"Every day will be Sunday by and by," sang the writer, but it is not known that he had the year of our Lord, 1911, in mind when he wrote that song. Nevertheless, the present year is certainly long on Sundays. There are just fifty-three of them scheduled to occur before 1912 is ushered in.

The year began on Sunday: it ends on Sunday. There are five months with five Sundays each but fortunately for the man who hates to take a rest, they are widely scattered. The months thus blessed are January, April, June, October and December.

signature. Bonner declared that the check was not signed by Sprague, but was forged. In cross examination the defense attempted to make it plain to the jury that the witness was not any more familiar with Sprague's signature than he was with Noble's. The check was introduced as evidence and exhibited to the jury.

The State placed James Caskey, editor and publisher of the Greensburg News, on the stand. He testified that he talked with Noble the morning after the murder, but little or nothing was said of the murder. He spoke to him the second time, according to the testimony, in the court room, when Noble re-affirmed that the confession was voluntary and that the sheriff used no influence to get his signature. In cross examination the newspaper man declared that while the jury was out in the Noble trial at Greensburg, he remarked to Noble that the jury was disagreeing. He said Noble replied, "I wish they would come out. I am guilty and I am ready to take my medicine."

Perry Capper of Letts testified that he was at the Sprague home on the Monday afternoon following the murder. He answered even more than he was asked. Capper asserted that he found a shell in the Sprague barnyard that afternoon, near a fence and not far distant from tracks which lead toward Merritt Webb's home. He said it had rained the night before but that the shell was not wet. The defendant's attorneys brought out that Capper was not related and scarcely acquainted with Sprague or the defendant, but that he went to the scene of the murder purely through curiosity. In rebuttal, after the defense had brought it out, Capper asserted that the tracks in the corn field looked as if they had been made by a man having on no shoes, but wearing a pair of sox.

John H. Gibson of near Forest Hill, Decatur county, was put on the stand by the State. He testified that he and his wife were at the Sprague home on the morning after the murder and heard several remarks by Ben Noble. He stated that Noble said within his hearing that he came down stairs two or three steps at a time, falling most of the way. He also stated Noble said that Sprague had only one enemy he knew of.

Sam. N. Patterson, sheriff of Decatur county, was the most important witness of the morning. He very briefly told the story of the murder, that part of it in which he was connected in an official position. The sheriff declared that he arrived at the Sprague home about three o'clock Monday morning and was there until eight, when he arrested Noble and took him back to Greensburg. He stated he found Noble lying down by the stove in the kitchen and later noticed the shotgun sitting in the parlor. The sheriff said it looked as if it had been shot and there were powder burns in the barrel. According to his testimony, he removed the shell which he found in the gun and kept it. A shell was exhibited and he identified it as the one which he had taken from the gun.

The witness stated that he talked with Noble concerning the murder as to who could possibly be guilty. He described his actions in the house, saying that he went to Noble's room on the second floor and found that the bed had not been disturbed with the exception of the covers at the foot, where it looked like, someone had lain. He said Noble told him he had arrived home about eleven o'clock that night and that he had gone to bed, being awakened by Mrs. Sprague's screams.

Sheriff Patterson declared that

Noble promised him to tell him who committed the crime if he would take him to some place where he would be safe. He said he took the prisoner to the Marion county jail and on the next afternoon, Noble told him he killed Sprague. He said that he wrote on an old envelope what Noble said and that he (Noble) signed it of his own free will. The defense objected to the sheriff stating the contents of the confession, but allowed the State to introduce the signed confession as evidence.

The confession, as signed by Ben Noble himself, is as follows: "July 19, 1910. I went home. Ate my supper. Then went upstairs to bed. I worried about him not staying with his contract. Then went downstairs, got the gun and went into his bed and killed him."

On cross examination, the defendant's attorneys attempted to show the sheriff tried to coerce Noble into making the signed confession. The defense succeeded in proving that Patterson remembered some things very distinctly and others he could not recall at all. He denied that he told Noble to get a lawyer and that he was present when the coroner took Noble's statement at the jail.

"Did you not take Noble to the Marion county jail the first time on your own account?" asked Noble's attorney.

"No sir, he said he wanted to be taken away for safe keeping."

The defense brought out that Noble was taken back to Greensburg three times before he was sent here for trial, and that the sheriff took him back to Indianapolis the second time on his own account and not because the prisoner wished to go. The sheriff testified that the deputy prosecutor, George W. Bruce, went with him and Noble on the first trip to Indianapolis, and that he did not confer with the other officials at all during the trip. He reiterated his previous statements that Noble voluntarily signed the statement of his own accord and that he promised him nothing for the confession. He was strong in his denial that he offered Noble any inducement for the confession.

Sheriff Patterson admitted that he gave orders to the jailer not to let anyone see Noble, but he could not remember that he had given strict orders to keep the deputy prosecutor out. He said that there was no arrangement with the court that Noble should be given a light sentence if he pleaded guilty. The sheriff finally admitted that he asked Ben Noble to tell two newspaper men that he had been treated well by the sheriff and that he (Patterson) had not taken him through any "third degree" methods to get his confession. The defense attempted to show that the sheriff had tried to fortify himself against any suspicion that he had used "third degree" methods by asking Noble to speak as he did to the newspaper men. Before that it was brought out by the defense that Noble had said he did not want to see a Greensburg attorney, because he thought the attorney was a newspaper man.

Jesse W. Rucker, physician and publisher of the Greensburg Graphic, testified that he was taken to the Marion county jail on Friday after the murder by the sheriff and that Noble, when he saw the written confession, declared it was his and that he had signed it voluntarily. Noble is alleged to have told Rucker during that interview that Sprague had hired him to help with the farm work and that he had been compelled to do most of it. Rucker said Noble told him Mrs. Sprague treated him as a mother would.

Merritt Webb, who lives on the farm adjoining the Sprague farm testified that Noble called him about midnight on the night of the murder and said that Sprague had been killed. Webb enumerated the incidents of the night after he and his family arrived at the Sprague home. He declared that he heard Mrs. Sprague screaming continually. He said they met Noble at the gate leading to the Sprague home and he followed them into the house. Webb attempted to tell what Mrs. Sprague whispered in his ear, when he entered but the defense objected. Webb finally blurted out that Mrs. Sprague whispered "Ben did it. Watch him." He said that he and Ben stood at the foot of the bed where Sprague lay and that Noble muttered, "My God, Mr. Webb, aint it awful?"

Webb testified that his son Donald was sent after the neighbors although Noble wanted to call them. He said he heard Noble remark to Mrs. Sprague, "Gert, don't take on so." He asserted that Noble told him he came home at ten o'clock that night, went to bed and was awakened by Mrs. Sprague's screams. He said Noble said he fell asleep down stairs. Webb testified that he went upstairs and found that the bed had not been disturbed with the exception of the covers at the foot. In cross examination it was brought out that, while out cutting wood, Noble told Webb that he knew of only one enemy Sprague had and that was a neighbor named Stroppe, with whom Sprague had trouble over breaking a colt.

Mrs. Merritt Webb and Donald Webb, son of Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Webb, were both placed on the stand in succession and each testified to practically the same facts that Mr. Webb related.

Dr. E. B. Gulliford, coroner of Decatur county was the first witness placed on the stand by the State this morning. He testified that he had been called to the Sprague home on the morning after the murder; had viewed Sprague's body as he lay in bed; saw the shot had entered the murdered man's head under right ear and lodged in top of his head and that there were no marks about the wound. Due to the fact that the coroner had forgotten the shot gun, found in the Sprague home, he was sent back to Greensburg and requested to appear tomorrow morning.

Mrs. Sprague was placed on the stand again by the defense and questioned in regard to the incident on the day of the murder, when Sprague is alleged to have given Noble $2 to hire a rig. Great difficulty was experienced on account of Mrs. Sprague's inability to speak above a whisper. She persisted in explaining her answers other than by say-yes or no. Both indirect and cross examination she asserted that her husband told her he gave Noble $2 but that she did not remember that it was to be used to pay for a rig. In State's examination, Mrs. Sprague said she told Merritt Webb her husband gave Noble $5 on Saturday and $2 on Sunday. In the defense's examination she testified that it was only a few minutes from the time she was awakened until she was in the kitchen. Mrs. Sprague stated that she did not remember what part of the gun barrel she touched and that she did not grip it.

At the close of the opening statements made by the State and the defense late yesterday afternoon, after the jury had been impanelled, Mrs. Albert Sprague, widow of the murdered man, continued on page two.

ROYAL Baking Powder Economy

The manufacturers of Royal Baking Powder have always declined to produce a cheap baking powder at the sacrifice of quality.

Royal Baking Powder is made from pure grape cream of tartar, and is the embodiment of all the excellence possible to be attained in the highest class baking powder.

Royal Baking Powder costs only a fair price, and is more economical at its price than any other leavening agent, because of the superlative quality and absolute wholesomeness of the food it makes.

Mixtures made in imitation of baking powders, but containing alum, are frequently distributed from door to door, or given away in grocery stores. Such mixtures are dangerous to use in food. In England, France, Germany and some sections of the United States their sale is prohibited by law. Alum is a dangerous mineral acid, and all physicians condemn baking powders containing it.

The label of alum baking powders must show the ingredients.

TEMPLE DEGREE.

Rushville Commandery No. 49 Knights Templar will hold a special conclave tomorrow evening to confer the Temple degree. All Sir Knights are requested to be present.

AMUSEMENTS

The Palace will show a Meleies film tonight, the subject of which is "Tony, the Greaser." It is a story of western life with a Mexican as the principal character. Earl Robertson will sing "Sleepy Head."

The Vaudet will present Joe Daralane, an eccentric comedian in a high class vaudeville act tonight. The first picture is an Itala film, "Foolshead, the Funny Man, Knows How to Take His Recreation." The other is a Thanhouser film taken from Goldsmith's novel, "The Vicar of Wakefield." A new song will be sung.

The Star Grand offers an extraordinary program tonight showing the most stupendous production ever conceived in motion pictures entitled "The Command From Galilee," acted by the Reliance all-star stock company. It is a story of the French revolution, one hundred people in the cast, marvelous light effects from the burning town. This subject is considered the most wonderful and pretensions effect ever put forth in a moving picture film, and the results are startlingly realistic. Every figure seems a living, breathing character. In addition to this fine film, "The Melville Hamilton company" will appear in high-class vaudeville giving four complete acts. C. T. Eward will sing "When Mammy Rocks Her Little Picks to Sleep."

WHAT IS BEST.

It's wiser being good than bad;
It's safer being meek than fierce;
It's fitter being sane than mad.
My own hope is a sun will pierce
The thickest cloud earth ever stretched;
That after last returns the first.
Though a wide compass round be fetched;
That what began best can't end worst.
Not what God blessed once prove accurst.

CLERGYMAN BUYS MONKEYS.

Seeks Serum to Prevent or Cure Infantile Paralysis.

The Rev. Maitland Alexander, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Pittsburg, who is worth $20,000,000, and his wife as much more, is experimenting on monkeys in the hope of finding a serum or cure for infantile paralysis, the disease from which less than 15 per cent of its victims recover.

Dr. Alexander has for many years been connected with the Allegheny General hospital, and it is there that the experiments are now being carried on.

He now has sixty monkeys in a cage in the pathological department, and they are being utilized daily for an exchange of blood with sufferers from the dread disease.

Strong Healthy Women

If a woman is strong and healthy in a womanly way, motherhood means to her but little suffering. The trouble lies in the fact that the many women suffer from weakness and disease of the distinctly feminine organism and are unfitted for motherhood. This can be remedied.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Cures the weaknesses and disorders of women. It acts directly on the delicate and important organs concerned in motherhood, making them healthy, strong, vigorous, virile and elastic.

"Favorite Prescription" banishes the indispositions of the period of expectancy and makes baby's advent easy and almost painless. It quickens and vitalizes the feminine organs, and insures a healthy and robust baby. Thousands of women have testified to its marvelous merits.

It Makes Weak Women Strong. It Makes Sick Women Well. Honest druggists do not offer substitutes, and urge them upon you as "just as good." Accept no secret nostrum in place of this non-secret remedy. It contains not a drop of alcohol and not a grain of habit-forming or injurious drugs. Is a pure glyceric extract of healing, native American roots.

Feet So Sore Couldn't Walk Down Stairs—

TIZ Cured Her Quick.

If you have sore feet, tired feet, sweaty feet, lame feet, tender feet, smelly feet, corns, callouses or bunions, read what happened to Mrs. Crockett of Jeffersonville. TIZ DID IT. Mr. Crockett says: "After the second treatment she walked downstairs one foot at a time. She has not been able to walk downstairs before in past five years, except by stepping down on each step with one foot at a time. This is remarkable. Send five more boxes." No matter what ails your feet or what under heaven you have used without getting relief, just use TIZ. It's different. It acts right off. It cures sore feet to stay cured. It's the only foot remedy ever made which acts on the principle of drawing out all the poisonous exudations which cause sore feet. Powders and other remedies merely clog up the pores. TIZ cleans them out and keeps them clean. You will feel better the first time it's used. Use it a week and you can forget you ever had sore feet. There is nothing on earth that can compare with it. TIZ is for sale at all druggists, 25c per box, or direct, if you wish, from Walter Luther Dodge & Co., Chicago, Ill.

* RARE OPPORTUNITY TO GET *
* SEED TESTS MADE FREE. *

Farmers just now have prominently in mind the getting and sowing of the small seeds: clover more particularly. Two things in connection with all small seeds need to receive attention, is the seed pure, free from the seeds of noxious weeds, the scattering of which on the land means weedy fields, smaller crops and unsightly premises? Is the seed plump, fresh and possessed of high germinating power? Will it grow vigorously when put in the soil? Many a poor stand of clover, many a weedy field is due to poor seed. It pays and pays well to give due attention to the matter of seed selection. In connection with the small seeds, the Agricultural Experiment Station is prepared to offer valuable assistance by means of its seed laboratory. Farmers are invited and urged to make the fullest use of this laboratory. If clover, alfalfa or grass seed has to be bought, first secure samples of what is being offered—four or five tablespoonsful of clover, alfalfa, or grass seed is ample. Send these to the seed laboratory where the samples will be examined and a report made to the sender as to the weed seed or other impurities present and how much of each also to the visibility or germinating power of the seed. This report will prove of great assistance in choosing a high grade of seed. No other grade is good enough and no other should be used where it is possible to secure the high grade. No charge is made for these tests. A constant and ever increasing demand for better seed must result in raising the standard of seed offered on our markets. Our farmers are urged to turn down low grade seed when this sort is offered in favor of the choice seed—really choice and high grade seed, not the choice and high grade in name only, through high in price. First class seed is worth more and farmers ought to be willing to pay somewhat more for it. It is now high time to be thinking of good seed. Address samples to Branch Seed Laboratory, Purdue Experiment Station, Lafayette, Ind.

SHANK'S VIEWS ON RECALL BILL

Mayor of Indianapolis Glad the Measure Failed.

ONLY THING HE WAS AFRAID OF

"Why, You Know Darned Well, if There Had Been a Recall Law, the Brewers Would Have Had a Recall Election During the First Six Months I Was in Office," Says State Capital's Chief Executive.

Indianapolis, March 9.—Although Mayor Shank has not had an opportunity to make a careful study of the new Proctor liquor regulation law, he says he believes it is very much in line with the model license law he has been advocating for several months. The mayor also says he believes the city council should avail itself of the opportunity under the law to fix the annual city license fee for saloons at $500, because of the additional revenue it would bring the city.

Kept to his bed from illness, the mayor watched the closing days of the legislature with much interest through the newspapers. While he does not approve all of the legislation enacted, he is especially well pleased over the fact that a recall bill was not passed.

"A recall bill was the only thing I was afraid of," said the mayor. "Under such a law I don't believe a mayor could last a year in Indianapolis. If he enforced the saloon laws to the letter the brewers and saloon keepers would get a petition with enough signatures to hold a recall election. If a fellow failed to enforce the laws, the preachers would get enough signatures to call an election."

RATES RAISED

One Effect of the New Indiana Employers' Liability Law.

Indianapolis, March 9.—Because of the new employers' liability law, passed at the recent session of the legislature, liability insurance rates in Indiana have undergone an average increase of 100 per cent. This law, insurance men and employers say deprives the employer of all defense.

Insurance men explain the increased rates by saying that they had to increase their premium receipts on policies to offset the increased expenditures the new law is expected to incur in the way of damages. The increases in schedules is graduated. Rates on the more hazardous occupations, such as wood and stone workers, have gone up from 30 to 40 cents to $1 and over, while risks such as bakers have not been increased more than a few cents.

Employers are greatly displeased at the increased rates. Many of them are abandoning liability insurance, while others who never have carried liability insurance are taking their places on the policy lists.

Imprisoned Trustee Resigns.

Terre Haute, Ind., March 9.—William Sappington, accused of attempting to kill John Gully, has resigned as trustee of Honey Creek township. His enemy for Gully grew out of an investigation of his official conduct. Writing his resignation in jail, he said that the needs of the township must be considered, and he would therefore make way for someone who could perform the duties of trustee. The commissioners chose Thomas A. Anderson, a farmer, as his successor.

USE OF ROAD DRAGS GAIN POPULARITY.

The importance of good roads has been a subject of much discussion here, and various methods of road working have been tried in an experimental way. Road dragging has been suggested in this county, but for some reasons have never been tried with a view of adopting it as a county practice. The use of the drag has become general, it seems, in every county where it has been given a fair trial. In Hancock county the experiment has been lately made with the result that half a dozen drags have been purchased by the county. The Greenfield Reporter says:

The use of road drags in Hancock county has come to be recognized as a great benefit and a money saver for the county. At the last meeting of the county commissioners they purchased half a dozen road drags of two different sizes. These will be used by the road supervisors to keep the roads in condition. In several places drags have been used as an experiment and the result was so satisfactory and so far ahead of what was expected that the order for drags was placed at once.

After a rain or a freeze and thaw, the dragging of a road lightly puts it in good condition so that the wheels of a vehicle do not cut through and the road bed is left level and solid.

A CITY OF TENTS AT SAN ANTONIO

Biggest War Show Since 1898
Is Being Staged.

POURING IN BY THOUSANDS

Already the Troops From the Nearby Stations Are Beginning to Arrive at San Antonio, and by Sunday It Is Expected That All Organizations Will Have Arrived There and Be Ready For Orders.

San Antonio, March 9.—The mobilization of the largest force of regular troops since the days of the Spanish-American war, reports show, is proceeding with smoothness and regularity. From all parts of the country troops are now speeding from their stations, where they have for months enjoyed the peaceful routine of garrison duty, to the southern frontier, there to be molded into a homogeneous army, fully prepared for any possible service. Hundreds of telegrams have been received telling of the celerity with which the unexpected orders have been carried out. Not a hitch has been encountered and practically the entire force of 20,000 men is now on the move for Texas and lower California. It is practically certain now that within five days the mobilization at Fort Sam Houston, at Guantanamo and at San Diego will have been completed.

Some of the organizations from nearby posts are already beginning to arrive here. The great part of the troops, however, will not reach San Antonio until the latter part of the week. By Sunday it is expected all of the organizations will have arrived here and be ready for orders.

The army now gathering will be complete in every detail. It will be composed of infantry, cavalry, field artillery, engineer corps, signal corps—in fact, all the elements that go toward making up a fighting army.
There will be thirty-six companies of coast artillery withdrawn from their proper stations on the Atlantic and gulf coast to serve temporarily at Galveston as infantry troops.

From now until the end of the week troops will be pouring into San Antonio day and night. A city of tents is springing up here such as has not been seen in this country since 1898.

General Carter, who will be in command of the division with headquarters here, is now enroute from Washington. He waited at the war department until he was satisfied that the great body of troops now converging upon Fort Sam Houston were fairly entrained and headed for their destination. General Carter is assistant to Major General Wood, chief of staff.
He occupied a similar post as chief assistant to Adjutant General Corbin at the war department in the Spanish war days. Since that time he has had much experience in the field as commander of the department of Luzon in the Philippines and as chief of the department of the lakes at Chicago.

Going to See Big Show.
Washington, March 9.—In addition to the 20,000 regular troops now on their way to Texas, the staff and line officers of the militia throughout the country, 8,000 in number, will be invited to go to Texas and witness the maneuvers. The militia organizations themselves will not, it is expected, be called into the war game, and the officers of the state organizations will not all be at the headquarters in San Antonio at the same time. They will be invited in batches off and on while the maneuvers are in progress.

LAUGHED AT IT
Audience Thought Cry of "Fire" Was Part of the Show.

St. Petersburg, March 9.—The fact that only twenty people out of 140 were saved in the fire at the moving picture show at Bologoe on Monday night was largely due to the showman telling the audience before hand that the pictures would be accompanied by appropriate sounds and that they need not be alarmed. When the explosion of the film occurred a majority of the spectators, therefore, thought that it was part of the entertainment. Even the cries of "fire" were laughed at.

A number of men escaped by trampling the women and children under their feet. On the other hand a workman braved the flames fifteen times and rescued about twenty persons, but finally perished himself.

Spectators at Night Rider Trial Not Searched For Weapons.

Hopkinsville, Ky., March 9.—Dr.
David A. Amos, Caldwell county physician, is facing a jury in the Christian court on the charge of leading the night rider raid on Hopkinsville Dec. 6, 1907. No case was ever tried here in which the interest was as intense, and standing room is in demand at the courthouse. No order has been made to search spectators for weapons, as was done in the former trial when the cases were called.

Milton O. Barber and Stanford Hall, night riders who turned state's evidence, are guarded by militiamen in citizens' clothes.

NO INVASION IS INTENDED

Uncle Sam's Troops Not Going to Cross Border.

JOINT ARMY AND NAVY GAME

Unprecedented Maneuver, It is Carefully Pointed Out, Is Merely a Demonstration to Prove Mobility of Regular Army and Incidentally to Show
Foreign Governments That Uncle
Sam Is Still in the Police Business.

Washington, March 9.—Gradually unfolding itself is the situation which has resulted in the sudden movement of 20,000 troops toward the Mexican frontier and the hurrying of 2,000 marines and five warships to the gulf. Officials of the war and navy departments still contend that the mobilization of one-quarter of the entire regular army along the Mexican line is for the purpose of holding joint army and navy war games, but the fact that it is intended chiefly as a military demonstration for the protection of American and other foreign properties in Mexico is becoming more certain.

There is, however, another consideration which influenced the president and his advisers to order this impressive force to the Mexican frontier. It has been learned that Mexico about two weeks ago formally protested to the state department that the American side of the dividing line was not being properly patrolled. The contention of the Mexican government was that the revolutionists had been able to use the American side as a base of operations. The protest on the part of Mexico undoubtedly has been considered in connection with the desire of this government to indicate its disposition to insure the protection of foreign property in Mexico in the event of the Diaz government failing to cope with the situation.

Will Not Cross Frontier.

It is apparent from developments that the extraordinary movement of troops to the Mexican border is purely a precaution. At present the United States has no intention of crossing the frontier into Mexico. The purpose of sending the troops into Texas is merely to have them available in the event of a contingency endangering American or other foreign interests in Mexico. Also the mobilization is intended to forestall any formal representations by European governments.
By its activity the United States tacitly notifies the European powers that it stands ready to protect foreign property if the Diaz administration falls in its duty. This is undoubtedly the interpretation put upon the action of the war and navy departments by the representatives of foreign governments in Washington. To sum up the situation, the United States is massing two-thirds of the entire regular army now in the country along the Mexican border for the purpose of awing the Mexican revolutionists, of putting the United States forces in a position to act in the event of an emergency, and of quieting any apprehensions that foreign governments may have had of their interests in Mexico.

England's Polite Denial.

A denial was made by officers of the British embassy that any formal representations had been made to the state department in regard to the Mexican situation by Ambassador Bryce.
There is still a strong impression in Washington, however, that the British ambassador has discussed the Mexican situation informally with officers of the state department and that the protest of the Pearson syndicate, a British corporation, against the lack of protection afforded its property by the Diaz government had something to do with the final decision on the part of the United States authorities to rush troops toward the Mexican frontier.

The proposed army and navy maneuvers are of course merely incidental to the main purpose. They afford a convenient cloak for covering the fact that the United States government is at all alarmed over the situation in Mexico. Plans are being pushed now for these maneuvers, and they will be carried through in great detail if nothing more serious diverts the attention of the forces.

Further evidence has been obtained
of the fact that Henry Lane Wilson, United States ambassador to Mexico, made a gloomy report to the state department in his conferences here upon the situation in Mexico, and there is no longer room for doubt that what he said had a good deal to do with the sudden decision of the army and navy authorities to concentrate a force near the Mexican frontier.

Gigantic Fraud Alleged.

Detroit, Mich., March 9.—An indictment has been returned here by the federal grand jury charging six Itroit men and John M. Bushnell of Chicago with an attempt to defraud the United States out of 48,000 acres of coal land situated near Homer, Alaska. The lands are of a value exceeding $50,000,000.

Ruef's long fight to keep out of the
